I will bring a change of warm clothes and footwear should they be thought necessary. I will bring a Journal / Notebook to make notes throughout the series. I note that I will be able to order material at any of the weekends, and it will be sent to me or collected at the next meeting. Feel free to order direct from RH, Amazon, etc. if you prefer.

I understand the course costs including all food, refreshment, adventure activities, the two essential reading books, these costs can be covered by a donation of around £50 per candidate per event weekend starting in September via Standing Order of 6 payments alt months to NatWest acc 77600266 sort 60-03-26, or by cheque payable to Chorley Chapel, or cash, all with a signed gift aid declaration if applicable. We will not ask or progress payments. Please encourage us by giving with a generous heart as we go though the series.

I understand that the material content is for men, and may include some matters of sensitivity and may contain some language or extracts that would not be a normal part of Church life. The organisers apologise for any offence, and ask you to be patient and tolerant with the presenters as necessary. There will be times when you will be asked to respect a "time out" time of silence prayer or mediation, to allow individuals to seek time with God. Please honour these times and feel free to walk in the woods, and lanes, or sit and rest in the Chapel. Respect any 'Private' and 'No Entry' signs in the area. Have a great time at Boot Camp at Chorley Chapel. May God bless you, you wont regret it.

"To receive and live in Gods Love, pursue wholeness and share both with the people of Chorley and beyond."
